GENERAL PRINCIPLES

Article 1 - Purpose

1. These regulations (hereinafter, "Regulations") govern the free or paid concession of the areas of the IMT School for Advanced Studies Lucca (hereinafter, "IMT" or "School"), as well as the residential services that it makes available for its users.

Article 2 - Users and rules of use

2. For IMT users we intend internal and external users according to the table attached to the Regulations defining the attributions of access to services by functional categories (Annex A).
3. The rules governing use of the IMT areas and services may also be governed by implementing rules laid down by the Administrative Director, without prejudice to the specific regulation regulations. In particular, if the areas and services are made available to the School and its users following specific agreements and/or contracts with third parties, the implementing rules will consider what is defined in the agreements with said parties.
4. The use of the areas and services referred to in the Regulations must take place in compliance with the structures, furnishings and equipment and in compliance with the rules of use referred to in paragraph 2. In the case of damage attributable to malicious or negligent conduct, the responsible persons are called to compensate damages and may lose the right to use the good or service with a motivated provision of the Administrative Director, without prejudice to any further consequences or sanctions, until the loss of user status and in the case of student expulsion.
5. The use of instruments that involve an expense to be borne by IMT (e.g. telephones, photocopiers, etc.), must be carried out according to criteria for containing expenditure and, where possible and advantageous, according to a monitoring system that identifies the user, the motivations and the amount of the expense.
6. Each internal user is given a magnetic identification card (badge) that they are required to use, for the use of areas and services, as established in these Regulations or by further provisions.
7. The badge is a strictly personal and absolutely non-transferable document. The user must look after it carefully, promptly denouncing any loss to the competent administrative office and then obtain a duplicate, at a cost of € 5.00, even in the event of damage that is not due to normal wear and tear.
8. The duration of the user status is equal to the duration of the relationship between the user and IMT and is terminated with the end of the relationship.

Article 3 - Definition of areas available to IMT

1. The areas that IMT can use are various:
 - a. areas owned by the School;
 - b. areas owned by third parties granted in use to the School free of charge or rented by the School.

2. The areas owned by third parties (Fondazione Cassa di Risparmio di Lucca – FCRLU and Fondazione Lucchese per l’Alta Formazione e la Ricerca – FLAFR) granted to IMT through free and exclusive loan contracts provide for:
 - a. the precise identification of immovable property granted in use (including furniture and other movable property pertaining to buildings);
 - b. the obligations and rights of the parties;
 - c. the routine and non-routine maintenance costs and the persons in charge of it.
3. IMT has the right however to grant the aforementioned areas to third parties, also requesting a contribution to the expenses as foreseen by Article 7 of the Regulations.

Article 4 - Access to the IMT premises

1. Users access the premises of the School by using the identification magnetic card as referred to in Article 2, paragraph 5 of the Regulations.
2. Occasional guesthouse and, in any case, those who do not have badges, are required to enter the premises of the School through the manned entrances, for the appropriate identification by the reception staff.

CLASSROOMS, LABORATORIES, AREAS FOR SEMINARS AND CONFERENCE

Chapter I - General principles

1. Classrooms, laboratories and areas for seminars and conferences are normally intended for IMT institutional activities. The use of these areas is defined by the educational calendar or through the booking procedures of the internal users of the School.

Article 6 - Discipline of the laboratories

1. Laboratory means a room equipped for a specific activity, technical or scientific, of experimental or even productive nature.
2. With a specific provision, the IMT Director regulates access to the laboratories of the School in cases in which the security of the data and equipment contained therein needs to be protected. This provision may call for further limitations to the categories permitted and the identification mode of those who enter and exit, with the annotation of the relative hours.
3. The Director, with the appropriate provision, may allow the use of the laboratories also to public or private bodies for research and teaching purposes, prior to the stipulation of special agreements.

Chapter II - Concession of classrooms and areas for seminars and conferences to third parties

Article 7 - Concession method to third parties

1. Compatibly with the normal performance of the institutional activities, the classrooms and areas may also be granted to third parties, with the appropriate provision of the IMT Director, without prejudice to the limitations imposed on the structures used, but not owned by the School.
2. The concession to third parties can take place free of charge to host seminars, conventions, meetings, research activities and events:

4. The IMT Director may revoke the concession of the area for supervised, exceptional, and motivated institutional needs of the School or relative to security and public order. It will be the Administration's responsibility to inform the organizers without delay.

Article 8 - Common rules

1. The request for areas must be presented well in advance of the effective date of use, and in any case with a notice of no less than 15 days, following the procedures established by the IMT Administration.

A copy of the document is countersigned for acceptance by the user..

5. The concession of areas does not in itself entail the granting of the right to use the School's name, logo or trademarks. In the event these distinctive signs are present in the area granted to third parties, they will be suitably rendered invisible by the third party to whom the space is granted.

Article 9 - Liability for using areas managed by IMT

1. The parties authorized to use the areas are liable for any damage caused to property and persons in carrying out their activity.
2. The applicant is required to issue IMT a specific liability waiver regarding the liability for damages to third parties (Annex C). The School is exonerated from any liability connected to these activities.
3. Authorized parties must comply promptly with the provisions of the Regulations, as well as any requirements that will be provided during authorization; the current regulations on accident prevention and fire prevention must however be respected.
4. The premises must be returned in the condition in which they were made available.
